Title

Trieste Port Office

Active Dates

1944-1949

Administrative History

The Trieste Port Office was established in May 1946 to co-ordinate the movement of UNRRA supplies with the allied military authorities in control of the port. The head of the office, acted as Chairman of the UNRRA Port Committee, which was composed of Port Officers of the UNRRA Missions in Austria, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia attached to Trieste (and responsible to their respective Mission Chiefs), together with representatives of allied military authorities, shipping and railway companies, the Austrian, Czechoslovak and Yugoslav governments, and the local police. The Chairman's functions consisted of representing UNRRA with the military authorities, expenditure of freight and handling charges, and advancing to the Mission Port Representatives their budgetary needs. He was responsible to the PRDG's Office in London. For a period in July 1946, some of the operations were carried on from the port of Venice owing to labour difficulties in Trieste.

In September 1946 the Chairman was given greater control over the Trieste operations and was recognized as the Chief of the Trieste Port Office, with responsibility to the Chief of Supply in ERO.

The Office was closed on 31 August 1947, but reduced operations were carried on by the Office of the UNRRA Agent.
